Our minds are fertile Gardens of Eden, ready at command to produce golden sunflowers. But the serpent is always poised, eager to distract. We are wise to plant scriptures of Love and Gratitude for our Creator; else the weeds of illusion dull our senses, take root, entangle us needlessly, and block the radiance of our Souls so completely that growth beneath the darkness becomes almost impossible. This debilitating condition is combated with Gratitude in words of Wisdom and Love. The radiance of God always reveals the flower to us again. Its seed has never left our garden, but, if we do not plant flowers in our gardens, we will forever pull weeds.

We may passively allow the weeds of illusion to fill every space in our plot; or we can actively choose to harvest, through Grace, our Soul's truth of Love and Gratitude to our Creator. If we hear only the voice of our Soul, and see only the vision of our Soul, then our reward flows effortlessly and abundantly from our harmonious Universe. May we cultivate our flowers, nourish them with Love, have Gratitude and Humility toward God, and may all universal secrets unfold like petals of the lotus, one by one. The seed is always inside the fruit. ●
